

Pre-fabricated Withering Trough

Tea leaf Withering Troughs are used for pre-conditioning of the green leaves. It's a pre-fabricated MS structure and fitted with axial flow fan.

After receiving the fresh plucked leaf from tea garden, these leaves kept in this trough for several hours before processing. Axial Flow blows air under the leaf.

Trough capacity depends on quantity of leaf to be store. Easy to fabricate at trough house and can be dismantled and reinstalled anywhere within a short period.

(Due to continuous process of product development, the design is subject to change without prior notice.)